The Shoemakers' Lock-Out

All the Factories in Cincinnati Are Closed,

And Thousands of Men Are Out of Employment--They Meet and Pass Resolutions.

CINCINNATI, May 15.--The shoemakers held a meeting at Arbeiter Hall this morning, with 700 or 800 present. Mr. H. C. Traphagen occupied the chair and Mr. Jos. T. Brennan acted as Secretary.

A lengthy protest against the resolutions adopted by the Arbitration Society of the manufacturers, which directed the employees of Rogers to return to work, was read by Mr. Traphagen, the object being to show the men the intentions of their representatives on the Board in the event of an investigation of their case.

A committee of five, consisting of Messrs. Thomas Butterworth, James Hopkins, Hugh Cavanaugh, Robert Johnson, and J. Molten, was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sentiments of the meeting, after which addresses were made by Messrs. Chidister, Carey, Conway, Parker and others, after which the above-named committee made the following report:

"Whereas, The members of Local Assemblies Nos. 1,831, 1,870, 1,876 and 1,901, K. of L., entered into an agreement styled 'The Board of Arbitration and Conciliation' for the best and shoe factories of Cincinnati, which agreement provides for special meetings of the Board, as per Rule 17, as follows: 'The President shall call special meetings of the Board upon the written agreement of five members of the Board, said request specifying the nature of the business to be transacted, and no business shall be transacted except that mentioned in the call. The meeting shall convene within five days after the request is made; and

"Whereas, The Board on the side of the manufacturers refused to allow the meeting to be called to order for the purpose of acting on the business set forth in the call; and

"Whereas, The President issued a call for a meeting of the Board on May 14, the members being present to transact the business for peremptorily refusing to call the meeting to order, unless certain conditions should be complied with, upon which the Board had taken no action; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the manufacturers have violated Rules 2, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19, and that we publicly demand of them investigation in accordance with said agreement

"Resolved, also, That the Board of Arbitrators on the side of the aforesaid Assemblies be instructed to proceed to the selection of one arbitrator, in accordance with Rule 12, and notify the President of the Board of such selection as soon as made."

The resolutions were adopted, and after a few remarks by a number of men the meeting adjourned.

It was reported that the employees of George Hucker, seven in number, had left their benches this morning and joined the men in the lock-out.

THE MANUFACTURERS.
The manufacturers will hold a meeting at the Board of Trade rooms at 4 o'clock this afternoon, so that nothing new has been developed with them.

Mr. Joseph Cuttner this morning joined the manufacturers.

Mr. Sullivan is now the only manufacturer who has not joined, and he being in New Orleans can not be communicated with.

THE THOMPSON TRIAL.

Talk, Talk, Talk!

HARRISBURG, Ky., May 15.--Hon. Dan Voorhees began his address this morning. The house was crowded. In his first sentence he outlined his argument thus: "I am here to show you that the defendant is guilty of no crime, either by human or Divine law," and he continued:

"In the cold language of the indictment, he is classed as a poor murderer; but he is not of the criminal class, but a law-abiding citizen, and by the help of God before I get through I'll show you who the murderer is! I'll show you who murdered domestic peace, who struck an assassin's blow at the sanctities of home."

The next phase of the argument was a picture of the dead man's conduct at Cincinnati, and on this point facts were grouped with amazing skill. This he intensified by a vivid delineation of Mrs. Thompson's infirmity for strong drink, and the advantage Davis took of that.

The defense of Jessie Buckner followed, coupled with the argument that the case was established independently of her testimony. The argument occupied three hours and closed at noon.

The defense rests the question of Thompson's guilt upon the plea that his reason was completely overthrown from the time of hearing the story of his wife's misfortune up to the time of the shooting, and that the presumption of Davis guilty relations was sufficiently strong to warrant his belief in the story.

Mr. Schuyler one of the witnesses says: "There is not much excitement there," he added; "not one-tenth as much as a person would suppose by reading the papers. Thompson takes things coolly, and don't seem to manifest much anxiety over the result. The jury are a good, honest-looking set of men, and all appear to be firmers. By the way, I see there is a big fire raging there. I was thinking yesterday, while walking through the place, what would become of the town if a big fire should break out. Everything was as dry as a chip, and I am too. Come along."

Cream Pie Poison.
CLEVELAND, O., May 15.--Three sisters, Annie, Kittie and Susie Krause, living on St. Clair street, bought cream pies from a corner grocery, Saturday night, and ate them. John Davis, his wife and three children, also bought cream pies from a neighboring grocery yesterday. All the above persons were taken violently ill. Two of the Krause girls are still in a dangerous condition, but all the others are out of danger. The physicians say the pies contained a poisonous substance, and the police are working up the case.

FROM OVER THE OCEAN.

A Triple Collision and Terrible Smash-Up, with Seven Lives Lost.

An Infernal Machine on Shipboard--France Takes Possession of the Airlon Coast.

London, May 15.--A terrible collision has occurred on the Caledonian railway at Lockerby Junction. A heavy goods train from Carlisle collided with a passenger express from Stranraer, blocking the station and doing considerable damage.

While these trains were locked into each other, an express from Glasgow tore into the Lockerby Station with fearful speed, resulting in a double collision. The carriage was smashed and twenty or more passengers seriously injured and seven killed instantly.

London, May 15.--The Times to-day says the particulars of the attempt to destroy a steamer plying between Liverpool and New York has just leaked out at the former place. It appears that just before the vessel left Liverpool for New York on her last voyage, having on board a number of emigrants, a man gave the steward a box and requested him to convey it to New York. The steward's suspicions were aroused and he consulted the captain, who ordered that the box be opened.

This was done in the presence of the Captain and officers, and the box found to contain an infernal machine. The contents of the box were thrown overboard, but the box itself was retained and a note made of the address upon it. The fact of this discovery was not made known publicly in New York on the vessel's arrival there, but the British Consul General in that city was notified of it. The steamer has just returned to the Mersey from New York.

London, May 15.--At the next Snec Company's meeting M. De Lesseps intends to propose the construction of a second canal.

France.
Paris, May 15.--A small force of French troops has landed at Port Nova, on the African coast, and taken possession in the name of the Government.

The serious illness of President Grevy is announced to-day.

London, May 15.--According to The Times Gazette Count De Chambord is dying.

Ireland.
Dublin, May 15.--The trial of Fitzharris, alias "Skin the Goat," has commenced, on a charge of being accessory in the Phoenix Park murders. He pleaded not guilty.

London, May 15.--The Pope has sent a letter to the Irish prelates and priests advising complete non-interference in Irish political matters at the present time.

Zulu Land.
London, May 15.--It is rumored that the restored King, Cetewayo, against whom so strong a resistance is being made by the other Zulu chiefs, is preparing for an active attack.

Turkey.
Constantinople, May 15.--Mahmoud Nedim Pasha, lately Minister of the Interior, is dead.

Spanish America.
Salvador, May 15.--On April 16 the barracks at Santa Lucia were attacked by a mob of men armed with rifles and revolvers, but they were driven off by the soldiers, who killed several, wounded others and made forty prisoners. The revolutionists cheered Dr. Delgado while crying "Death to Fildivar Barrios."

Honduras--Congress has voted £10,000 to President Soto for his expenses during his approaching trip to Europe and the United States.

Nicaragua--The little town of San Carlos has been completely destroyed by fire. Loss, $100,000.

Panamá--The Minister of the Treasury has warned the Canal Company that they must pay the expenses of keeping between 2,000 and 3,000 men on the Isthmus to maintain order. The Minister estimates that the cost thus imposed on the company during the fourteen years' contract grants for the completion of the canal will amount to $7,000,000 and might even reach $10,000,000 or $12,000,000.

BREWERS IN COUNCIL.
They are considering the Scott Law as a Preliminary to the Action of the Convention.

CLEVELAND, May 15.--The Ohio Brewers' and Malsters' Association convened here to-day in a session called in lieu of the annual meeting set for July, in order to consider the Scott Law, taxing saloons, and to transact business, preliminary to the National Convention in Detroit to-morrow.

President Leo Ebert, of Ironton, delivered an address denouncing the Scott Law as oppressive and discriminating against saloon-keepers, whose business does not warrant paying an annual tax of $200. He claims that the statute is unconstitutional, and said a case has been arranged to test its validity in the Supreme Court. After the address W. Mulhanser, John Hawk and Edward Goepfer, of Cincinnati; L. Scholter and C. E. Gehring, of Cleveland; F. Hariz, of Akron, and John Kuebler, of Sandusky, were appointed a Committee on Resolutions.

HARRISBURG DOOMED.
The Best Portion of the Town Laid in Ashes.

HARRISBURG, Ky., May 15.--Last night a fire broke out in the lumber yard of Hale Tibbetts at this place, and, spreading out at 1 o'clock laid the finest part of the old town in ashes. At that hour it was still raging.

HARRISBURG, Ky., May 15.--Noon.--The fire last night destroyed twenty-four houses, including the Presbyterian Church. Loss $45,000; insurance $20,000, in numerous companies.

SULLIVAN-MITCHELL FIGHT

The Pinkey Englishman Gains One Knock-Down, but is Soon Knocked Out of Time.

New York, May 15.--Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather an immense crowd assembled in Madison Square Garden last night to witness the glove contest between Sullivan, the champion of America, and Mitchell, introduced as the champion of England. The holders of $1 tickets were admitted at the Fourth Avenue entrance, while the holders of $2 tickets entered at the Madison Avenue door. There were about 7,000 persons inside the building, and the boxes were filled with prominent club men and politicians. Roscoe Conkling and Charles A. Dana had front seats in the space reserved near the platform for the press.

The ceremonies opened at 8:30 by sparring between Pete McCoy and Bob Mulhany. Then came a set-to between John Reilly and Steve Taylor, Jim Kelly and Jerry Murray, and others. The crowd becoming impatient, loud calls were made for Sullivan and Mitchell. There was great applause when Sullivan appeared upon the stage in fighting costume. Mitchell was also warmly applauded. Before time was called Tappin Williams cautioned the two men. The work was earnest from the start. Sullivan went victoriously at Mitchell, and the latter, getting out of his wits, twice, watching his opportunity, got in a quick blow, and Sullivan went down. He got up and closed with Mitchell, and there was close fighting until time was called and the men ordered to break.

In his corner Mitchell looked fresh, smiling and confident, while the breathing of Sullivan was labored, plainly showing a want of condition.

The second round was very spirited. Mitchell danced around Sullivan, and then closing suddenly upon him, drove him back upon the ropes. Sullivan got up and pursued the Englishman with caution, evidently bent on delivering a knock-out blow. He caught Mitchell square in the face and the Englishman fell. He got up quickly, and after sharp half-minute fighting, Sullivan threw him hard upon the ropes. The latter springing lightly to his feet, was knocked down, and got up dazed. Sullivan pursued him and drove him to the ropes again, and there he cleared over them. The British fell down, with his feet straight up in the air.

In the third round the excitement was intense. Mitchell got in some sharp blows on Sullivan, but the latter delivered his blows with great directness and force, and the Englishman was twice knocked down. The third time he rose quivering, when Police Captain Williams rushed upon the stage and ordered the fight stopped. There was much confusion for a few minutes, but when order was restored both men removed the gloves, shook hands, and were presented with bouquets of flowers.

Sullivan was officially declared winner of the match. Mitchell was voted game and a cleve boxer, but too light to cope with a heavy weight like Sullivan. The winner took sixty per cent, and the loser forty per cent of the gate receipts, which amounted to about $10,000.

THE STORM KING'S RAGE.
Further Reports of His Ravages North and West.

ELKHART, Ind., May 15.--During a wind storm at White Pigeon, Mich., yesterday afternoon, a frame school-house, filled with children, was blown down. Wm. Meak was crushed to death and several injured.

RICHMOND, Ind., May 15.--A furious rain and hail storm visited this locality last night, but no damage of consequence is reported, save on the new sewer and at the Cascade Rose Nursery and Hill's greenhouse, where the loss is heavy.

Mr. VERNON, O., May 15.--A terrific hail-storm, accompanied by wind and rain, passed over this county yesterday afternoon. Hail-stones exceeding five inches in circumference were picked up after the storm had spent its force, the ground being white with the falling ice. Much damage was done in this city to sky-lights, gardens and growing fruits. A number of people were injured and much damage done at Fredericktown, this county, by a severe wind-storm.

St. Louis, Mo., May 15.--The destruction by the cyclone at Macon, Mo., Sunday night seems to have been much greater in the country than in the city. The latest advices from there say that for fifteen miles southwest of Macon the storm leveled everything in its track. The farm-houses, and in most cases all out-buildings of the following-named persons are either entirely demolished or very greatly damaged: T. B. Robertson, J. A. Banta, Elijah Banta, T. B. Muller, John B. Tankership, Daw Rogers, Reuben Toyll, Joseph Burgess, John Clarkson, C. E. Miller, John Buchanan, James Miller, A. L. Summers, Richard Benson, Westley Banta, Charles Busler, Thomas Banta, Evan Summers, A. M. Smith, Wm. Burton, John Roth, Mr. Shumk and Mr. Harpe. No doubt several others have been destroyed, but these are all there is definite knowledge of just now. They included some of the best farm houses in the country.

Sturges, Mich., May 15.--A cyclone struck this place from the southwest at 3:30 yesterday afternoon, passing through the outskirts of the town, and swept everything before it for half a mile in width. Chauncey Gilman, a farmer living two miles southwest, sought shelter with three children in a barn, which was carried away and all four killed.

EARLEINGTON, Ky., May 15.--The cyclone said to have last evening passed over the town of Empire, containing one hundred inhabitants, totally destroying the town and sweeping everything in its path. Seven people are reported killed and a number of others wounded. The Louisville & Nashville track is blocked by trees.

A GOLDEN STONEHOUSE.
A Mystery That is Exciting Last Chance, Montana.

New York, May 15.--A correspondent from Last Chance, in Missoula county, Montana, says: Two Frenchmen came into Last Chance yesterday, who have been recognized as Augustine Raffello and "Antoine, the Trapper," both of whom have been known for years in the mining camps of Oregon and Idaho. They have created a sensation in the display of half a dozen long buckskin bags filled with gold dust and glistening nuggets, from the size of bird shot to that of a walnut. The story runs that for years past these two men have been in the habit of spending most of their time in the frontier camps, but now and then they would disappear for a month or six weeks and suddenly make their appearance, always with their pouches well filled with dust. Of course they are supposed to visit some placer country of fabulous richness, where by a few days' work they are able to extract $2,000 or $3,000, which they spend with lavish hand during their sojourn in the camp.

Attempts have been made to follow them on their excursions, which usually resulted in their hiding in the mountains and eluding pursuit; but one man claims to have followed them into the Kontena country to a point near the British line, where a narrow pass was reached, and that while one went on, the other mounted guard with a Winchester rifle. He attempted to approach the sentinel, but was ordered to halt, accompanied by a discharge of the rifle. The companion immediately appeared, as if the shot was a mutually understood signal, and the intruder was warned to leave the vicinity on pain of death. The romantic setting of the story makes it extremely interesting, and many of the old frontiersmen place implicit faith in its entire truth, citing as a basis of their confidence the fact that the men do disappear and invariably return with plenty of gold; but I have heard no satisfactory reason given for the failure to find that narrow pass and penetrate the mysteries beyond during some of the long intervals that the heroes of the yarn spend in the camps.

HUSHED UP.
A Son Who Embezzled $13,000--A Father Who Saved His Reputation.

New York, May 15.--In the office of a Newark law firm the proprietors of a large clothing-house in Broadway, this city, received $13,024 which their assistant cashier and bookkeeper had embezzled from them. The young man had been in their employ over six years, and had won their confidence. Some time ago he contracted an intimacy with a dissolute woman in this city, and gave her money and valuable presents. That his wife might not become suspicious from his lack of money, he used the firm's funds until he had taken nearly $13,000.

Finally he became alarmed and decided to break off with the woman who had ensnared him. But she had learned from him that he was a defaulter, and she used this knowledge in extorting money more from him. He put her off with small sums from time to time, and still she hounded him at the side. At last he resolutely refused her, and then she revealed to the firm that he had robbed them. At first the clerk denied it, but soon he admitted that her story was true. He was arrested and placed in charge of an officer, who accompanied him to Newark, where he confessed to his wife.

The young man's father, who resides in Morrisania, made up the deficiency in his accounts, and the prisoner was then released. It was said yesterday that he would go to Europe. He is thirty years old, and has two children.

MEASLES EPIDEMIC.
A Terrible Plague in Niagara County.

N. Y.--One Hundred Cases Reported.
LOCKPORT, May 15.--Dr. Ransom, of Lockport, by order of Dr. Harris, of the State Board of Health, has investigated the reported epidemic of malignant measles in Burgoltz, Niagara county. He found the condition even worse than reported. There are nearly one hundred cases of sickness, and the disease is spreading.

Four schools are closed, and there are no adequate means to check the continued increase of the disorder. The disease is not merely the German measles, but the more dreaded and dangerous black measles. In fatal cases so far it has taken the pneumonia form and filled the lungs of children with severe inflammation, resulting in strangulation.

A number of cases of common measles, and one case only of German measles, were found. The disease was brought by a German emigrant. Dr. Ransom will continue the investigation. The inhabitants of that section are in a great state of excitement and apprehension.

Boys' Strike Against Sunday Work.
New York, May 15.--A strike of the messenger boys in the service of the Mutual District Telegraph office at No. 8 Pine street has been started. The boys usually run errands for brokers, and have a holiday on Sunday. The company issued an order requiring them to work every alternate Sunday. To this programme they objected, and the strike was the result.

About seventy-five boys are employed in the office and they are kept hard at work nine hours each day. They declare that they will not return unless on the express understanding that they will not be asked to do duty on Sundays. Their salary is $4.50 per week, and the brokers for whom they work keep them very busy. They say that Nos. 94 and 812--the former known as "Three-Fingered Jack"--have returned to work at forty per cent of their earnings. These two lads were the leaders in the strike.

Lexington Races.
LEXINGTON, May 15.--The fifth meeting of the Kentucky Association was an improvement upon last week's races. The first race, three quarters of a mile heats, won by Newsboy; time 1:16½, 1:18, 1:17½. Second race, half a mile, colts, won by War Dance; time, 50½. Third race, three-year-olds, mile heats, won by Dance; time, 1:40, 1:40½.

Heavy Storm in Ohio and Indiana.
Yesterday afternoon a heavy hail storm prevailed throughout sections of Ohio and Indiana, which has destroyed much fruit in some places the storm amounted to a cyclone, and destroyed many buildings.

The Need for a National Bankruptcy Law.

The Southern Trade Gazette, published at Louisville, says: The technicalities of modern business have become so numerous, and the opportunities for successful financing of the rascally sort so abundant, that there is an urgent demand for a law of bankruptcy which shall protect the creditor who has, by his extension of credit, kept afloat for many days beyond the normal strength his delinquent debtor, and at the same time allow an honest debtor, who has become insolvent beyond his depth, to make a fair and equitable distribution of the assets in hand between his creditors and, if possible, himself. If all business men viewed the relation between debtor and creditor in the same light, the question would be one of easy solution, but unfortunately very few agree on all the points or even upon many of them. Some creditors are so "hard" as to want "all or none," and do not know or care to know anything about compromises, which they consider but another name for thieving. It is a mistake, however, to class all compromises alike. An honest compromise, founded upon the actual value of the assets, and the proportion they bear to the liabilities, if there is any reason for believing it will be honestly carried out, is in most cases not only equitable and fair, but by all odds the best policy for all parties concerned. Just here is where a well-framed law of bankruptcy would step in as the mediator between the different interests and guarantee an equitable division at the least possible expense for good work. It stands to reason that a well equipped office, which makes a specialty of dealing with only one class of cases, is prepared to expedite such cases and economically administer them; at least much more so than an occasionally assigned selected by the creditor himself, it may be with the best intentions, but who is unfamiliar or, at best, rusty in the duties of such a position, and whose qualifications, in the eyes of the court and the present laws, are wholly of a pecuniary nature. What is wanted is a simple, straightforward law, which any business man of ordinary sense can understand, with but one officer, with the necessary clerks in each district, whose business it shall be to take charge of the assets of an insolvent concern, either upon application of creditors or the debtor himself; carefully and promptly assess the value of the property, and, as rapidly as possible in the nature of the case, convert into money and prorate it among the creditors. For this simple service the fee should not exceed a few dollars (no percentages should be tolerated) and the discharge promptly issued. Where there is a taint or fraud, or an evidence of an intent to deceive, the officer should be empowered to receive testimony, and, if proven, the punishment lies in the courts; but the distribution of the assets need not be retarded a day on account of the investigations, but be made subject to or conditional upon a final closing of the estate. And the man who has been convicted of fraud, or an attempt to deceive should be debarred from again entering business. This brings to us a Government license for all kinds of business; but that we are now discussing.

The last bankruptcy law was in the main, a good one, or rather its intention was good, but its workings were frequently very bad—the principal objection to it being the obnoxious system of fees and the many unnecessary delays. In many instances—in most all small cases, in fact—the fees and delays worked to the utter destruction of everything like assets, and while the unfortunate creditors were left with the bag to hold, the poor unlucky bankrupt was left with even less and a stain on his business name which years of toil and effort cannot efface. To avoid this, we want no cumbersome bureau, with its per diems and percentages, but a law fixing some simple method of conducting the business and placing it in the hands of a business man in each locality, who shall be selected for his impartiality, fairness and competence; and whose fees shall be so reasonable that no house of any standing need fear to bring a delinquent into his presence on account of the expense.

A clear-headed Congressman who will frame a bill and present it in the next Congress will deserve well of the business community.

The grangers are organizing in Mississippi and threaten to make trouble for any party that opposes their interests.

Mr. TALBOT, ex-Governor of Massachusetts, is said to be nursing his wrath against Governor Butler to keep it warm. Recently Mr. Talbot met Mr. Butler at a school gathering where dancing ruled the hour, and, desiring to keep up the conversation, remarked: "You don't dance, General?" "No," was the quick reply, "I make other people dance."

A bill now being perfected by the Massachusetts Legislature provides that inspectors of factories and buildings shall placard upon the entrance to or door of the cab or car of any elevator which they find to be unsafe a notice of its dangerous condition and prohibiting its use until made safe. The bill provides also that any person removing such notice or operating such elevator without permission from the inspector shall be punished by a fine not less than $10 nor more than $5 for each offense.

THE LIME-KILN CLUB.

Detroit Free Press.

Judge Cadaver has lately fallen into the habit of showing up at Paradise Hall an hour before the meetings open and studying art with no one to bother or make him afraid. By a careful inspection of the busts of Caesar, Jackson, Clay, Shakespeare and Sumner and by a close inspection of three or four sacred horse pistols, the four renowned saviors and the half-dozen chronos, he has become and almost a connoisseur, and can almost tell the difference between a genuine Reubens and a tea-store plague. He was on hand as usual Saturday evening. Samuel Shin left him standing before the bust of Caesar and went down stairs after an onion. Upon his return the Judge lay senseless on the floor, and around him were the fragments of the busted bust. The Judge had scarcely revived when the meeting opened, but there was no shade of pin in Brother Gardner's voice as he arose and said:

"Judge Cadaver will be given two weeks to replace de bust with a new one havin' de same quint to de left eye. In case he fails to do so will be fined about seven hundred dollars. Grem'han dar am a few things I would like to call your 'tention to. De sezm has now arose for pullin' ole hats and pillers over de broken windows, an' I seize de occasion to ax you to remember:

"Dat a front gate off its hinges means a slipshod man in de house.
"Dat a red nose means a hungry flour barrel.
"Dat no man eler got work sittin' on de fence an' discussin' de needs of de kentry.
"Dat de less pollyticks a man has de mo' cash he kin pay his grocer.
"Dat arguments on religion won't build de church nor pay de preachers.
"Dat a fam'ly which member borrows nor lends keeps a ybners de longest.
"Dat beauty will starve in de parlor whar common sense will grow fat in de kitchen.
"Dat de world am full o' mice holes an' all de cats need do am to watch an' wait.
"Dat economy doan mean buyin' kaliker fur yer wife an' broad cloth fur yer self.
"Dat progress doan mean fittin' ole doads to new buildin's.
"Dat liberty doan gin you de right to eat another man's chickens.
"Dat success achieved by rascality am a tish net meed de o' yare.
"Let us now proceed to attack de real program of bizness, an' if dar am any no couching an' spittin ober de fur co'ner sartin passions will witness pureedinn's dat will cast a gloom ober de nex' fifty y'ars."

ELECTION.

St Isaac Walpole, said he would like to state that his motto had always been—"Good luck nebbber stops to wake a mku up." He then took up the bench-box and made a tour of the hall which resulted in the election of the following candidates: Presumption Jones, Elder Root, phosphate Jackson, Prof. Ruggles, Come Down Taylor, Duplex Mason, General Harrison, Judge Blixoi and Gopher White.

A LEGAL POINT.

An official communication from the branch lodge at Greenville, S. C., contained the following inquiry: "In case a colored man sits on a jury where another colored man is accused of stealing a hog, and all the proof offered is that the officer found fresh pork on the prisoner's premises, is it the duty of the jury to acquit one or convict?" "Dat am a werry simple case," said the President, as he laid down the letter. "De jury must take de groun' dat de missin' hog got drowned by de oberflow of de Mississippi River, an' dat de fresh pork found in de cabin of de prisoner was some dat he traded moonshine whiskey fur ober at Spartansburg. De verdict am not guilty, an' de prisoner am discharged."

WAYDOWN BEBEE'S DISCOVERY.

Some weeks since Waydown Beebe announced in open meeting that he had discovered a direct motion of the earth from north to south, and he predicted a very poor cabbage crop in consequence. The subject was given to the Committee on Astronomy to investigate and report, with power to expend twenty-four cents in experiments, and at this meeting the said committee announced the completion of its labors. It appeared that Brother Beebe had discovered the new motion in his own house. All the furniture leaped to the south, and the baby was constantly falling down in that direction. A jar of soft soap had worked clear across the kitchen in one night, and the family dog had to lie with his head to the east or west. The committee had visited the house and made a careful survey, and the result was the discovery of the fact that the south side of Brother Beebe's cabin had sunk down seven inches and was still going. The theory of a new motion was therefor dropped, and the cabbage crop was safe.

THE ROAD.

The Secretary then announced a letter from the office of the State Board of Health of Ohio, asking:

"Will Brother Gardner please point out the road to greatness?"

"Dat's 'cordin' to de kind of greatness he means," said the President. "Great generals am made by bloody butcheries; great orators am made by takin' lessons in eloquence; great financiers am made by legally robbin' de public; great statesmen am made by stayin' in Congress fo' y'ars on a salary of $5,000 per y'ar an' bringin' home $200,000. Presidents am sometimes voted into office, an' sometimes dey steal in. If dis pusson will signifoate de kind of greatness he desires to obereome his achin' brows, I reckon I kin put him on de right road an' tell him whar' all de forks am."

HE NOSE—HE FEEL.

Giveadam Jones then secured the floor to announce that Frank Brutus Anthony, a colored lawyer of Memphis, and an honorary member of the Lime-Kiln Club, had neglected stove blacking and white washing for the past year in order to study law, and had taken his first case into court and made the following peroration to the jury:

Your Honors and gentlemen of de jury, we propose to argue to you de facts dat dis am a case of self-defense. A man has got a right to defend his life. I thinks, gentlemen ob de jury—I demmands of you, gentlemen ob de jury, dat you bring in your reason—and dat de prosecutor proaches this man fur to 'have a fess with him. Gentlemen ob de jury, de prosecutor struck de fust kick, an' he told you here dat de moon was shining behind de cloud. Yes, gentlemen ob de jury, de moon was shining behind de cloud, and a mighty black cloud at dat. Gentlemen ob de jury, reason dis matter in your minds. I did not intend, gentlemen ob de jury, to read you any law, but I will now proceed to read you some to set aside de Turney-General's talk.

I could read you, gentlemen ob de jury, books after books, but I don't see no use, as I am satisfied you am bound for to say my client am not guilty. Now, gentlemen ob de jury, if you don't think I have read you de law you am mistaken, fur my reasonable mind is bound fur to think this is de law, fur human nature is dat water will seek its level. I now, gentlemen ob de jury, leave de case with you.

The jury were only three minutes deciding that the prisoner thus defended was guilty, and Brother Jones moved that Frank Brutus be expelled from the club. After a hot discussion it was decided to warn him that he must pause in his mad career or go overboard, and the meeting adjourned.

The sharp crack of the pistol summoned her husband and the servants, but she died a few minutes later.
